

Visitors Guide to Glasgow by bus

June 2021

First Bus

How to use the bus

1. Before you travel

Use the First Bus App to plan your journey, buy your ticket, track the bus to your local stop and even check how many seats are available on board as you wait.

Our Space Checker tool will inform you of the quietest times to travel.

2. At the bus stop

Use the First Bus App to track where your bus is and the number of free seats available.

Get your payment method ready – mTicket on the First Bus App, contactless card, concessionary pass or the exact fare.

As the bus approaches put out your hand to signal to the driver that you'd like to board.

When your bus arrives, please allow space for passengers to leave the bus before you step on board.

3. On board

We encourage customers to make cashless payments to avoid cash handling.

Follow any social distancing guidelines that may be in place.

We have increased our cleaning regime, customers can assist by not eating or drinking on board and removing any rubbish when they leave.

When you'd like to disembark, just ring the bell and remain seated until the bus stops.

Thank you for travelling with First Bus.

Glasgow Green
Glasgow's own Arc De Triomphe has become an integral part of the city's fabric. Now towering at the western entrance to Glasgow Green is the McLennan Arch. Originally featured in the facade of Robert and James Adams' Assembly Rooms on Ingram Street in the 18th century. Locals flocked to this classical building for dances, music and cultural events in the 1800s before it became a club, the Athenaeum, in 1847.
